GENERAL INDEX

TO THE

DIVISIONS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

1859 (Sess. 2)—1865.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed.

RULES, ORDERS, and FORMS of PROCEEDINGS of the HOUSE of COMMONS relative to DIVISIONS.

By Standing Orders, 19th July 1854, except when Mr. Speaker, or the Chairman of a Committee of the whole House, shall otherwise direct, his order for the withdrawal of Strangers during a Division, is understood to apply to Strangers occupying Seats below the Bar, and in the Front Gallery, and will be enforced by the Serjeant-at-Arms accordingly.

When Strangers have withdrawn, in obedience to Mr. Speaker's directions, the doors are locked, and no Member can either enter or leave the House until after the Division.

So soon as the voices have been taken, the Clerk is to turn a two-minute sand-glass, kept on the Table for that purpose, and the doors are not to be closed until after the lapse of two minutes, as indicated by such sand-glass.

The doors are to be closed so soon after the lapse of two minutes as the Speaker, or the Chairman of a Committee of the whole House, shall think proper to direct.

Mr. Speaker states whether, in his opinion, the "Ayes" or the "Noes" "have it;" and unless his opinion be acquiesced in by the minority, the Question is determined by a Division.

When the doors have been locked, and all the Members are in their places, Mr. Speaker puts the Question, and after the voices have been given, declares whether, in his opinion, the "Ayes" or the "Noes" "have it;" which, not being agreed to, he directs the "Ayes" to go into the right Lobby, and the "Noes" into the left Lobby, and appoints two Tellers for each party.

Members can only speak to a point of order, while the House is dividing, by permission of the Speaker, and while speaking, are to sit covered.

No Member may speak to any Question after the same has been put by Mr. Speaker, and the voices have been given in the affirmative and negative thereon.

In case there should not be two Tellers for one of the parties, Mr. Speaker forthwith declares the Resolution of the House.

No Member is entitled to vote in any Division, unless he was present in the House when the Question was put; and the Vote of any Member who was not so present will be disallowed.

Every Member present in the House when the Question is put, will be required to vote; and in case he should not have heard the Question put, Mr. Speaker will again state it to him.

No Member is entitled to vote upon any Question in which he has a direct pecuniary interest; and the Vote of any Member so interested will be disallowed.

The Rule of this House, relating to the Vote, upon any Question in the House, of a Member having an interest in the matter upon which the Vote is given, applies likewise to any Vote of a Member so interested, in a Committee.

In returning from either Lobby, every Member is counted by the Tellers, and his name is also taken down by the Division Clerks.

[Mem.—A notice is affixed to each desk in the Division Lobbies, requesting every Member, as he passes, to state his name to the Division Clerk, whether that Clerk knows him personally or not.]

When all the Members have resumed their places, the Tellers on either side come to the Table, and report the Numbers to Mr. Speaker, who declares them to the House.

In case of confusion or error concerning the Numbers reported, unless the same can be otherwise corrected, the House will proceed to a second Division.

If the Numbers have been inaccurately reported, the House, on being afterwards informed thereof, will order the Journal to be corrected.

In case of an equality of Votes, Mr. Speaker gives a casting voice, and any reasons stated by him are entered in the Journal.

The Names of Members who have voted on Divisions are printed in alphabetical order, and delivered daily to Members with the Votes and Proceedings.

Divisions are taken in a Committee of the whole House, in the same manner as in the House itself.

[1860.]

2^o Reading :—Order read for resuming adjourned Debate on Amendment proposed to question [20th August], That the Bill be now read a second time, and which Amendment was to leave out the words, “now read a second time,” in order to add the words “laid aside” (Mr. Hennessy), instead thereof.—Question again proposed, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question.—Debate resumed.—Notice taken that the Bill, as brought from the Lords, contained a provision that Her Majesty’s proctor shall be entitled to charge certain costs as part of the expense of his office; and that, as such expense, by virtue of the Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, is to be defrayed out of monies to be provided by Parliament, such provision was an infringement of the privileges of this House.—Whereupon Mr. Speaker explained, that since 1854 provisions of this character had been admitted in Bills brought from the Lords; but that as it appeared to him that such a practice was open to serious objections, that it was liable to misconstruction, and that it was calculated to break down the broad line of distinction between the duties, attributes, and powers of the two Houses, he had already intimated that any such provisions would hereafter be objected to by himself, on behalf of the House, and that he should advise the House not to receive them.—Mr. Speaker further stated, that this Bill had been brought from the Lords on the 1st day of May last; that the intimation of his opinion had since been attended to, and all similar provisions had been omitted by the Lords from Bills sent to this House; and that, under these circumstances, the House would perhaps not think it necessary to insist upon its privileges in this particular case.—Amendment, by leave, withdrawn :—Another Amendment proposed, to leave out the word “now,” and at the end of the question to add the words “upon this day month” (Mr. Malins).—Question put, that the word “now” stand part of the question.——AYES 43—NOES 11 - - - - -

Leeds Bankruptcy Court, &c. :

Motion made, and question proposed, That the evidence taken before the Committee of this House on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, discloses that a great facility exists for obtaining public appointments by corrupt means; and that such evidence, and also that taken before a Committee of the House of Lords in the case of Leonard Edmunds, and laid before this House, shows a laxity of practice and want of caution on the part of the Lord Chancellor, in sanctioning the grant of retiring pensions to public officers over whose heads grave charges are impending, and in filling up the vacancies made by the retirement of such officers, whereby great encouragement has been given to corrupt practices; and that such laxity and want of caution, even in the absence of any improper motive, are, in the opinion of this House, highly reprehensible, and calculated to throw discredit on the administration of the high offices of State (Mr. Hunt):—Amendment proposed, to leave out from the first word “That” to the end of the question, in order to add the words “this House, having considered the Report of the Select Committee on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, and the evidence taken by it, agrees with the Committee in the opinion that the facts which are established acquit the Lord Chancellor from all charge in the matters to which it refers, except that of haste and want of caution in granting a pension to Mr. Wilde, but this House is of opinion that some further check should be placed by law upon the grant of pensions to the holders of legal offices” (The Lord Advocate), instead thereof:—Question, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question, put, and negatived.—Question proposed, That those words be there added.—Debate arising; motion made, and question put, That the debate be now adjourned (Viscount Palmerston).—AYES 163—NOES 177

monial and Divorce Causes Court [Lords] Bill :

[1860.]
Reading:—Order read for resuming adjourned debate on Amendment proposed to Question [20th August], That the Bill be now read a second time, and which Amendment was to leave out the words, “now read a second time,” in order to add the words “laid aside” (Mr. Hennessy), instead thereof.—Question again proposed, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question:—Debate resumed.—Notice taken that the Bill, as brought from the Lords, contained a provision that Her Majesty’s proctor shall be entitled to charge certain costs as part of the expense of his office; and that, as such expense, by virtue of the Act 20 & 21 Vict. c. 85, is to be defrayed out of monies to be provided by Parliament, such provision was an infringement of the privileges of this House:—Whereupon Mr. Speaker explained, that since 1854 provisions of this character had been admitted in Bills brought from the Lords; but that as it appeared to him that such a practice was open to serious objections, that it was liable to misconstruction, and that it was calculated to break down the broad line of distinction between the duties, attributes, and powers of the two Houses, he had already intimated that any such provisions would hereafter be objected to by himself, on behalf the House, and that he should advise the House not to receive them.—Mr. Speaker further stated, that this Bill had been brought from the Lords on the 1st day of May last; that the intimation of his opinion had since been attended to, and all similar provisions had been omitted by the Lords from Bills sent to this House; and that, under these circumstances, the House would perhaps not think it necessary to insist upon its privileges in this particular case.—Amendment, by leave, withdrawn:—Another Amendment proposed, to leave out the word “now,” and at the end of the question to add the words “upon this day month” (Mr. Malins).—Question put, That the word “now” stand part of the question.—AYES 43—NOES 11 - - - - -

es, Public (Leeds Bankruptcy Court, &c.) :

Motion made, and question proposed, That the evidence taken before the Committee of this House, on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, discloses that a great facility exists for obtaining public appointments by corrupt means; and that such evidence, and also that taken before a Committee of the House of Lords in the case of Leonard Edmunds, and laid before this House, shows a laxity of practice and want of caution on the part of the Lord Chancellor, in sanctioning the grant of retiring pensions to public officers over whose heads grave charges are impending, and in filling up the vacancies made by the retirement of such officers, whereby great encouragement has been given to corrupt practices; and that such laxity and want of caution, even in the absence of any improper motive, are, in the opinion of this House, highly reprehensible, and calculated to throw discredit on the administration of the high offices of State (Mr Hunt):—Amendment proposed, to leave out from the first word “That” to the end of the question, in order to add the words “this House, having considered the Report of the Select Committee on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, and the evidence taken by it, agrees with the Committee in the opinion that the facts which are established acquit the Lord Chancellor from all charge in the matters to which it refers, except that of haste and want of caution in granting a pension to Mr. Wilde, but this House is of opinion that some further check should be placed by law upon the grant of pensions to the holders of legal offices” (The Lord Advocate),

Appointments (Leeds Bankruptcy Court, &c.) :

—Motion made, and question proposed, That the evidence taken before the Committee of this House, on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, discloses that a great facility exists for obtaining public appointments by corrupt means ; and that such evidence, and also that taken before a Committee of the House of Lords in the case of Leonard Edmunds, and laid before this House, shows a laxity of practice and want of caution, on the part of the Lord Chancellor, in sanctioning the grant of retiring pensions to public officers over whose heads grave charges are impending, and in filling up the vacancies made by the retirement of such officers, whereby great encouragement has been given to corrupt practices ; and that such laxity and want of caution, even in the absence of any improper motive, are, in the opinion of this House, highly reprehensible, and calculated to throw discredit on the administration of the high offices of State (Mr. Hunt) :—Amendment proposed, to leave out from the first word “That” to the end of the question, in order to add the words “this House, having considered the Report of the Select Committee on the Leeds Bankruptcy Court, and the evidence taken by it, agrees with the Committee in the opinion that the facts which are established acquit the Lord Chancellor from all charge in the matters to which it refers, except that of haste and want of caution in granting a pension to Mr. Wilde, but this House is of opinion that some further check should be placed by law upon the grant of pensions to the holders of legal offices” (The Lord Advocate), instead hereof.—Question, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the question, put, and negatived.—Question proposed, That those words be there added :—Debate arising ; motion made, and question put, That the debate be now adjourned (Viscount Palmerston).—AYES 163—NOES 177

der read, for resuming adjourned debate on amendment proposed to question [7th June], That an humble address be presented to Her Majesty, to convey to Her Majesty the thanks of this House for Her Majesty's most gracious speech from the throne: To thank Her Majesty for informing us that Her Majesty has with satisfaction availed herself, in the present anxious state of public affairs, of the advice of Her Parliament, which Her Majesty has summoned with the least possible delay: To thank Her Majesty for having directed that papers should be laid before us, from which we shall learn how earnest and unceasing have been Her Majesty's endeavours to preserve the peace of Europe: Humbly to assure Her Majesty that we partake in Her Majesty's regret that those endeavours have unhappily failed, and that war has been declared between France and Sardinia on one side, and Austria on the other: To express our gratification at learning that Her Majesty, receiving assurances of friendship from both the contending parties, intends to maintain between them a strict and impartial neutrality; and that Her Majesty hopes, with God's assistance, to preserve to Her people the blessings of continued peace: Humbly to thank Her Majesty for informing us that, considering the present state of Europe, Her Majesty has deemed it necessary, for the security of Her Majesty's dominions and the honour of Her Majesty's Crown, to increase Her Majesty's naval forces to an amount exceeding that which has been sanctioned by Parliament: Humbly to assure Her Majesty that Her Majesty may rely with confidence on our cordial concurrence in this precautionary measure of defensive policy: To thank Her Majesty for informing us, that the King of the Two Sicilies having announced to Her Majesty the death of the King, his father, and his own accession, Her Majesty has thought fit, in concert with the Emperor of the French, to renew Her Majesty's diplomatic intercourse with the Court of Naples, which had been suspended during the late reign: Humbly to express our gratification at learning from Her Majesty that all Her Majesty's other foreign relations continue on a perfectly satisfactory footing: To thank Her Majesty for having directed that the estimates for the year, for which provision has not been made by the late Parliament, shall be immediately laid before us, together with such supplementary estimates as present circumstances render indispensably necessary for the public service: To convey to Her Majesty our humble thanks for having directed a Bill to be prepared for giving effect, so far as the aid of Parliament may be required, to certain suggestions of the Commissioners whom Her Majesty had appointed to inquire into the best mode of efficiently manning the Royal Navy, and for recommending this important subject to our immediate attention: Humbly to assure Her Majesty that we rejoice to learn that measures of legal and social improvement, the progress of which was necessarily interrupted by the dissolution, will again be brought under our consideration: Humbly to thank Her Majesty for informing us that Her Majesty would with pleasure give Her Majesty's sanction to any well-considered measure for the amendment of the laws which regulate the representation of Her Majesty's people in Parliament; and humbly to assure Her Majesty that, should we be of opinion that the necessity of giving our immediate attention to measures of urgency relating to the defence and financial condition of the country will not leave us sufficient time for legislating with due deliberation during the present Session on a subject at once so difficult and so extensive, we trust to be enabled at the commencement of the next Session to give our earnest attention to a question of which an early and satisfactory settlement would be greatly to the public advantage: Humbly to express our gratification that Her Majesty feels assured that we shall enter with zeal and diligence on the discharge of our Parliamentary duties; and, in common with Her Majesty, we pray that the result of our deliberations may tend to secure to the country the continuance of peace abroad and progressive improvement at home:—And which amendment was, at the end of the question, to add the words "but we beg humbly to submit to Her Majesty, that it is essential for securing satisfactory results to our deliberations, and for facilitating the discharge of Her Majesty's high functions, that Her Majesty's Government should possess the confidence of this House and of the country; and we deem it our duty respectfully to represent to Her Majesty that such confidence is not reposed in the present advisers of Her Majesty" (Marquis of Hartington).—Question again proposed, That those words be there added:—Debate resumed:—Question put.——AYES 323—NOES 310 - - - - -

Motion made, and question proposed, That an humble address be presented to Her Majesty, to convey the thanks of this House for Her Majesty's gracious speech from the throne: To express to Her Majesty the gratification with which we learn that Her Majesty's relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly and satisfactory; and humbly to assure Her Majesty that we trust with Her that the moderation of the powers of Europe will prevent any interruption of the general peace: Humbly to thank Her Majesty for informing us that, believing that the Italians ought to be left to settle their own affairs, Her Majesty has not thought it right to exercise any active interference in these matters: To thank Her Majesty for directing papers on this subject to be laid before us: Humbly to thank Her Majesty for informing us that temporary assistance has been afforded to the Sultan for the purpose of establishing order in Syria by the body of French troops who have been sent there to represent the allied powers; and to assure Her Majesty that we share in the hope that tranquillity will soon be re-established in that province, and the objects of the convention fully attained: Humbly to thank Her Majesty for informing us that the operations of Her Majesty's forces in China, in conjunction with those of the Emperor of the French, have been attended with complete success, and that, after the capture of the forts at the mouth of the Peiho, and several engagements with the Chinese army, the allied forces became masters of the imperial city of Peking; to assure Her Majesty that we learn with satisfaction that the Earl of Elgin, and Baron Gros, the ambassador of the Emperor of the French, were enabled to obtain an honourable and satisfactory settlement of all the matters in dispute, and that throughout these operations, and the negotiations which followed them, the commanders and ambassadors of the allied powers acted with the most friendly concert: To thank Her Majesty for commanding that papers on this subject should be laid before us: To express to Her Majesty our gratification at hearing that the state of Her Majesty's Indian territories is progressively improving, and humbly to join in Her Majesty's hope that the financial condition of India will gradually partake of the general amendment: Humbly to assure Her Majesty that we fully concur in the hope which Her Majesty has expressed, that the measures which have been taken will speedily suppress the disturbances which have interrupted the peace of a part of New Zealand, and enable Her Majesty's Government to concert such arrangements as may prevent their recurrence: To express our full participation in the concern with which Her Majesty looks upon the serious differences which have arisen among the States of the North American Union as affecting the happiness and welfare of a people nearly allied to Her subjects by descent, and closely connected with them by the most intimate and friendly relations; and our hearty concurrence in Her Majesty's wish that these differences may be susceptible of a satisfactory adjustment, and in the sentiment which Her Majesty expresses that the interest which Her Majesty takes in the well-being of the people of the United States cannot but be increased by the kind and cordial reception given by them to the Prince of Wales during his recent visit to the continent of America: Humbly to assure Her Majesty that we learn with deep gratification Her Majesty's warm appreciation of the loyalty and attachment to Her Majesty's person and throne manifested by Her Canadian and other North American subjects on the occasion of the residence of the Prince of Wales among them:

Text of Address in answer to the Lords Commissioners’ Speech, brought up, and read, as follows:—Most Gracious Sovereign, We, Your Majesty’s most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled, beg leave to convey to Your Majesty our thanks for the gracious speech which Your Majesty has commanded to be made to both Houses of Parliament: We humbly thank Your Majesty for informing us that the negotiations in which the Emperor of Austria and the King of Prussia were engaged with the King of Denmark were brought to a conclusion by a treaty of peace; and we humbly express the gratification with which we learn that the communications which Your Majesty receives from foreign powers lead Your Majesty to entertain a well-founded hope that no renewed disturbance of the peace of Europe is to be apprehended: We humbly thank Your Majesty for informing us that Your Majesty remains steadfastly neutral between the contending parties in the civil war which still unhappily continues in North America; and we assure Your Majesty that with Your Majesty we should rejoice at a friendly reconciliation between them: We convey our thanks to Your Majesty for informing us that a Japanese Daimio in rebellion against his sovereign, having infringed the rights recorded by treaty to Great Britain and to certain other powers, and that the Japanese Government having failed to compel him to desist from his lawless proceedings, the diplomatic agents and the naval commanders of Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, and the United States of North America undertook a combined operation for the purpose of asserting the rights which their respective governments had obtained by treaty; and we express our hope that this operation, which has been attended with complete success, may by its result afford security for foreign commerce and additional strength to the government of Japan, with which the relations of Your Majesty are friendly: We humbly thank Your Majesty for commanding papers on this subject to be laid before us: We assure Your Majesty that we learn with regret that the conflict with some of the native tribes in New Zealand has not yet been brought to a close: and we thank Your Majesty for informing us that the successful efforts of Your Majesty’s regular forces, supported by those raised in the colony, have led to the submission of some of the insurgents; and that those who are still in arms have been acquainted with the equitable conditions on which their submission would be accepted: We express our gratification at learning that under Your Majesty’s sanction, and at the invitation of Your Majesty’s governor general, a conference of delegates from Your Majesty’s several North American provinces had assembled at Quebec; that those delegates had adopted resolutions having for their object a closer union of those provinces under a central government, and that if those resolutions shall be approved by the provincial legislatures, Your Majesty will cause a Bill to be laid before us for carrying this important measure into effect: We assure Your Majesty that with Your Majesty we rejoice at the general tranquillity of Your Indian dominion, and thank Your Majesty for informing us that long-continued outrages on the persons and property of subjects of Your Majesty having occurred, for which no redress could be had, became necessary to employ a force to obtain satisfaction for the past and security for the future: We humbly express to Your Majesty our regret at the calamity which has recently occasioned great loss of life and property at Calcutta and at other places in India, and our trust that the prompt assistance rendered by the officers of the Government, and the generous contributions which have been made in various parts of India, may have relieved the sufferings which have thus been occasioned: We thank Your Majesty for having directed the estimates for the ensuing year to be laid before us, and for having caused them to be framed with a due regard to economy, and to the efficiency of the public service: We assure Your Majesty that we learn with gratification that the general condition of the country is satisfactory; that the revenue realises its estimated amount; that the distress which prevailed in some of the manufacturing districts has greatly abated, while the Act passed for the encouragement of public works in those districts has been attended with useful results; and that Ireland during the past year has had its share in the advantage of a good harvest, with a gradual extension of trade and manufactures: We humbly assure Your Majesty that we will give our earnest attention to the measures of public usefulness which may be submitted for our consideration: We thank Your Majesty for informing us that Bills will be laid before us for the concentration of all the courts of law and equity, with their attendant offices, on a convenient site; for the completion of the revision of the Statute Law; for the amendment of the law relating to patents for inventions; and for conferring on the county courts an equitable jurisdiction in causes of small amount: We assure Your Majesty that our serious attention shall be given to the measures which may be proposed for carrying into effect certain recommendations made to the House of Commons, after inquiry directed by that House, into the operation of the laws regulating the relief to the poor, and to the Bill which will be laid before us, founded on the report of the Commission for inquiring into public schools; and we thank Your Majesty for informing us that Your Majesty has directed that a Commission shall be issued to inquire into endowed and other schools in England, which have not been included in the recent inquiries relating to popular education; and we humbly assure Your Majesty that with Your Majesty we fervently pray that the blessing of Almighty God may attend our councils, and guide our deliberations to the advancement of the welfare and happiness of Your Majesty's people:—Address read 2°.—Amendment proposed, in paragraph 11, to leave out the words "and that Ireland during the past year has had its share in the advantage of a good harvest, with a gradual extension of trade and manufactures," in order to insert the words "we regret that the general condition of Ireland cannot be regarded as prosperous or satisfactory, and that multitudes of the inhabitants continue to emigrate to foreign countries through the want of remunerative employment at home" (Mr. Scully), instead thereof.—Question put, That the words proposed to be left out stand part of the said address.——AYES 67—NOES 12 - -
